Foresters Plan Tuesday Whist

Vista Grande Circle No. 253, Foresters, have announced that their September whist will be held at Linhares hall, 176 Los Banos avenue. Club leaders said that this will be the new meeting place of the group.

This month's whist will be held Tuesday evening at 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Dollie Brush is chairlady. Assisting her will be her mother, Mrs. Lena Hutchings. The chairlady announces a first cash prize, as well as other awards and points out that score cards are nominal in price.

"Everyone is invited to attend," she said. "Do come and join our party, next Tuesday evening."

Apple Blossom Time

Mrs. Sadie Tuxford, Redwood City, Calif., would like to have someone analyze the "secret urges" which have pushed her two-year-old apple tree to blossom five times within a year and to bear four crops of fruit.

LADIES AID TO HOLD WHIST

Mrs. Martha Morgan, chairlady, announced today that Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Branch 59, will hold its September whist, Wednesday afternoon, September 3. Playing will begin at 2 p. m. at St. Michael's hall, 32 Broad street, San Francisco.

A cash first prize and other attractive awards will be featured, according to the committee. All local whist players are invited to attend.

Ticket Trickery

If you can get a traffic ticket "fixed" in your town the chances are that more serious offenses are also being condoned, according to the National Consumers tax commission, whose tax reduction drive seeks additional municipal economy and efficiency.

My Week

by Eleanor Roosevelt

DISQUIETING LETTER

I have just received a letter which, in itself, would not be so significant, but taken together with various other reports reaching me, is very disquieting. I am quoting it here approximately as it is written, changing only such things as might identify the writer.

"Several years ago, like many others, my family suffered financial reverses and we accepted FERA work, but not relief. I have supported my mother, who is a chronic invalid, and assisted my father through wages received through WPA work. From December, 1938, to May, 1941, I was fortunate to be on the administrative staff, first as a stenographer and later as an occupational interviewer, receiving when I left, $1,440 a year.

"My record for this period had been excellent, I was dropped from payrolls through no fault of my own, and was thankful that I had been permitted to hold the job as long as I had. I desired to try my luck in private industry.

WPA WORK HISTORY

"I started June 1, making a tour of every agency handling stenographic, clerical and typing positions. The interviewers show their interest in my appearance, my ability to operate a typewriter, stenography and my ambition to continue college, even if it meant working at night; yet they are sorry they can do nothing for me because I have worked for the Works Progress administration, and I will not lie about my work history. . . . I am 24 years of age, of good parentage, have good training, good educational background, am attending Columbia with money saved over a period of five years in order to learn stenotyping, and yet I can not get a job in New York city unless I lie, because I worked on WPA."

A similar picture is fairly true to other parts of the country. While this is not a universal experience, there are still enough employers who have this attitude to make it a very serious situation. Some eight and a half million Americans temporarily found work on WPA during the last six years. Their abilities and talents represent a pretty good cross-section of the American public and it seems to me very sad that any employer anywhere should not recognize that misfortune has come to people regardless of their own wishes or abilities.

FOREIGN POLICY

We all listened breathlessly when the radio from England gave us a statement of the peace drawn up by the President and Mr. Winston Churchill. There was nothing new, nothing which I had not heard many times before in conversation about our foreign policy. Yet, stated this way to the people of the world, one felt it was an important moment in the history of world progress. Chairman May of the military affairs committee in the house of representatives expressed very well in his short speech which followed Senator Connally's, the feeling which many of us shared.

The radio this morning brought me the news that our two sons, Elliott and Franklin Jr., were with their father during these last days "somewhere at sea." I knew that Franklin Jr. had gone off for an un-

Guard President
At President Roosevelt's party for Washington newspaper reporters, guests who had wandered to the south lawn had a queer sensation when they tried to get back into the Mansion and found the doors locked. Peering through the windows they saw that the brightly lighted Red room, the Blue room and the Green room had been suddenly emptied. Before long, a secret service aide came to explain. The rooms had been cleared to allow President Roosevelt to pass through to his private elevator. Just part of closer guarding of the President since the war has become worse.

Garden of Roses

A rose census by Park Superintendent William Nicholas of the 20,000 rose bushes surrounding the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., revealed that there are 67 kinds of roses represented.

disclosed length of time these waters, but the last I heard of Elliott was several weeks ago, when he was starting to fly over undisclosed and barren areas, and no word from that time on.

It is foolish to worry, for all of us know that whatever comes we have to meet it. Everybody has to do his job in the world, but just the same that statement on the radio that morning started me off for the rest of the day with a lighter heart.

MARSHALL FIELD

One day Mr. Marshall Field came to lunch with us, after which we went over to look at the library before he went to visit the Greenwich House camp at Lagrangeville, N. Y., which is in this county. There are not many people who take their positions on boards and various organizations as seriously as Mr. Field.

I have grown to know him better through our association on the United States Committee for Refugee Children, and constantly am impressed with the fact that he gives so much of himself. He never seems to consider that the money he has donated absolves him from a personal responsibility.

There are few young men I know, who would start out for a day in the country and remember that an organization with which they had been long connected, had a boys' camp nearby.

RURAL YOUTH GUIDANCE

Last February, there was held in Washington an Institute of Rural Youth Guidance.

I have just received a report of the proceedings and a "suggested plan of action." These pamphlets are going to be distributed by the agencies interested to those concerned with this problem in various parts of the country. I hope that many newspapers in rural areas, particularly the country weekly papers, will quote many of the recommendations.

an ALL-IN-ONE DISH for supper saves work on a warm day

says Dorothy Greig

WHEN the day is bright and sunny that's the time to heed the call of the not-so-wild outdoors. Meals to prepare? Of course—but let's plan things that don't demand hours in the kitchen. Hot food the family must have even when the temperature is soaring. But for many a meal just open cans of condensed soup, add water and heat. That's one appetizing way to take care of the hot food situation. Soup is light, easily digested and stimulating.

Or maybe at other times a nourishing hot main dish casserole is the answer. This can be put together in the cool morning hours and parked in the refrigerator until baking time. If, in the casserole you include vegetables as well as meat, so much the better.

One of my most savory all-in-ones is a zesty dish of chicken and noodles, tender young carrots and chopped celery in a tempting sauce and topped with hot stuffed eggs. It is a dish to satisfy demanding outdoor appetites, yet the actual cooking time is but a brief thirty minutes.

Chicken and Noodle Casserole with Vegetables

- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can condensed chicken noodle soup
- 1 1/2 cups cooked diced chicken
- 1 1/2 cups diced celery
- 1 1/2 cups diced carrots
- 3-4 eggs, halved and stuffed

Cook the diced celery in boiling water (no salt) for 15 minutes then add the diced carrots and continue cooking until tender. Drain. Combine the cream of mushroom and chicken noodle soups. Then add diced chicken, diced cooked celery and carrots, mix well and pour into a casserole or baking dish. Put into a moderately hot (375° F.) oven and heat for 20 minutes. Then arrange stuffed eggs on top of casserole and heat for 5-10 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Labors of Hercules
The 12 tasks of great difficulty imposed on Hercules by the Argive king were as follows: "To slay the Nemean lion; kill the Lernean hydra; catch and retain the Arcadian stag; destroy the Erymanthian boar; cleanse the stables of King Augeas; destroy the cannibal birds of the Lake Stymphalis; take captive the Cretan bull; catch the horses of the Thracian Diomedes; get possession of the girdle of Hippolyta, queen of the Amazons; take captive the oxen of the monster Geryon; get possession of the apples of the Hesperides; and bring up from the infernal regions the three-headed dog Cerberus."

HAVE . . . you a tank car?

MOTOR CHECK. Have your engine checked over
now. Don't run the risk of a breakdown.

TIME TO DO SOME-THING ABOUT IT

Are you always stopping for gas? One sure way of curing your car of being a gas eater is to have an expert check it. Mather Bros. mechanics will overhaul and adjust your engine for real fuel economy, and do it reasonably, too.
